Engage

Innovative formats that deliver a captivating, interactive experience

Live! Unconference Engage with the future

Design the conference agenda yourself and bring to light the next big opportunity or challenge that you'll be facing in your organisation. At the end of Day 1, reflect on the next big thing you're facing that hasn't yet been addressed and get ready to Tweet your question. The next day, the most popular topics will be chosen for our interactive panel of experts. A unique opportunity to prepare for the next big step-changes in your industry.

Drill-Down Roundtables Delve deep to source solutions

These informal subject-specific roundtables give you a unique opportunity to drill down into the details of an issue that is really important to you by probing the knowledge and expertise of industry market leaders. Each roundtable is limited to 10 people for maximum interaction and is designed for you to meet like-minded peers and source practical solutions collaboratively. An exceptional way to genuinely get to grips with your key challenges.

Revolution Case Study Rebel against the ordinary

In this innovative and interactive format, spend 20 minutes listening to a best-practice case study before the speaker challenges you as an audience to find a solution to this key unsolved challenge. You'll then engage in a small interactive roundtable discussion before each group presents its conclusions to the audience. Take away different approaches to the same challenges from your fellow industry peers!

1-2-1 Drop-In Clinics Immediate, bespoke solutions

These bespoke sessions, run by proven leaders on key subject matters provide you with the opportunity to address your specific concerns in the privacy of a 1-2-1 meeting. Book your clinic in advance on the topic that features highest on your priority list, prepare your questions for the clinic leader and then benefit from your exclusive 1-2-1 time. You'll leave your personalised session armed with fresh inspiration, advice and a bespoke, practical toolkit.

The Creative Boardroom Where great minds meet

A more rigorous, creative and interactive approach to tackling the critical challenges you all face today. Collaborate with up to 15 of your peers to determine a new 3-step action plan to take back to the office and test. Share your recent experiences, challenge each other on points of disagreement and ultimately find a way forward that leverages the innovation, know-how and insights from the collective brain power in the boardroom.

Main Conference Day 1 - 14 October 2014

07.45 Registration and coffee

08.35 Conference Directors introduction

08.40 Chairman's Opening Remarks:

John Lawson,
CEO, ColderICE

08.45 KEYNOTE ADDRESS Redefining the future of e-Commerce: Cloud, Mobile, Omni-channel and Analytics

Ola Strömberg,
CEO, CDON.com

Ola has been working on the initiation for a strategic turn-around plan for CDON.COM where the objective is to transform the business from being a narrow category retailer to becoming a one-stop-shop with a full assortment enabled by a marketplace model and cultural shift. This initially proved difficult to realise and accept that a giant leap has to take place in order to make the change and the necessary shift in his business. However, the results have surpassed expectations and he is waiting for more to come in the months and years ahead.

In this presentation Ola will be covering:

- » An analysis of e-Commerce growth in the Nordic region
- » Forecasting the next major trends in:
  - » Cloud, Mobile, Omni-channel and Analytics
- » How will these new trends impact retailers over the next 3 years?
- » Outlining CDON's new initiatives for driving customer engagement in this new world

09.15 KEYNOTE ADDRESS How to move from a "Retail destination" to a "Content destination"

Moritz Hau,
Managing Director Germany, ASOS Germany

Nina Faulhaber,
Editor in Chief, ASOS Germany

Moritz has recently been working out how to integrate old media (TV) with the ASOS website. To do this, ASOS had a juror on a fashion designer casting show, enabling ASOS to put a face to the brand for two hours every week on TV. Resultantly, ASOS was showcased to hundreds of thousands who had never visited the website before. Meaning the website must keep performing during periods of intense traffic and finding new ASOS 'content-angles'. Whilst adapting to traffic and sales spikes, more awareness in the market, better site stability and a bigger Editorial team.

Nina has been working on turning ASOS's online fashion store into a daily content destination. This has given ASOS the possibility to add a new dimension to the website and bring our editorial approach to a whole new level. With the launch of a dedicated style news channel on the ASOS website at the core and first step of the project we extended our editorial team around the globe and started working like a global news desk. Being part of a global team of one of the first retailers to make this step was really exciting. The challenges emerged from a content perspective: Balance. Being truly global while having local relevance, staying true to the brand values while covering everything that's relevant to our audience, being non-biased like a news desk while showing relevant product to drive sales. Also developing new content formats, and finding ways of telling news stories with an ASOS angle. This project has increased traffic on the website, more awareness in the market and eventually conversion.

In this presentation Moritz and Nina will be covering:

- » Storytelling and its growing importance in retail
- » Creating relevant and interesting content for your target audience
- » Learning how to measure the success of your content strategy
- » The future of retailing: How to become more than just a shopping website

09.45 ALL STAR PANEL The physical store and the website: What are the critical success factors for a seamless 'online' and 'offline' retail brand?

Wilko Klaassen,
Global Online Director, Husqvarna

Henrik Tingwall,
Head of Online Sales, Apoteket

Monika Dagberg,
e-Commerce Director, Granngården

Wilko is an e-Commerce, digital, shopper marketing and Multi/Omni Channel expert and experienced global business manager. He is Global Online Director for Husqvarna Group and formerly Global e-Commerce Director at LEGO Group. In 2011, he finished his Executive MBA and obtained an MBA degree from a consortium of 6 European universities. Wilko specialises in business development with focus on seamless consumer interactions across different (online) touch-points to drive conversion.

Henrik has been involved in the development and launch of Apoteket's mobile service for buying prescriptions. Apoteket is the first company to release a mobile offer for handling prescriptions. To achieve this he had to prove the concept with regulatory authorities. Henrik successfully launched the mobile offer on time and became runner-up for "most useful mobile service" in Sweden 2013.

Monika is the e-Commerce Manager at Granngården, a retail company with 109 stores, she is specialising in creating an Omni-channel strategy that reflects Granngården's reputation. She is also board member of INXL Innovation AB, she was previously the Country Manager Sweden for WhiteAway AS, the biggest 'white-goods' e-Commerce company in the Nordic's.

This panel will cover in further detail:

- » What does Omni-channel mean?
- » How does it create consumer opportunities?
- » How do you start this process?
- » What should you invest in first?
  - » Technology, Infrastructure, Staff, Branding
- » What does a seamless 'online' and 'offline' brand look like?

10.20 Coffee and networking break

11.05 How to use customer feedback as a driver of the Omni-channel experience: Embracing the sting of online criticism

Karin Jelkeby,
Omni-channel Director, Elkjøp

Karin worked for 21 years with IKEA as Finance and Admin Manager in Russia, 10 years in UK as Customer Delivery Manager and eCommerce Programme manager. For the Last 7 years Karin was the Global eCommerce Manager and Multichannel Strategy combined with Global Contact Centre Manager (2Ys). She is now the Omni-channel Director for Elkjøp Nordic.

In this presentation Karin will cover in more detail:

- » Why is online customer feedback so important?
- » How should you use customer feedback to help drive your behaviour?
- » How can you use data to measure the responses?
- » How do you overcome the critical factors that prevent...

11.25 Differentiating yourself in the Omni-channel world: Where, when and how can you stand out?

Svante Tegner,
CEO, Bubbleroom

Svante is proud to lead Bubbleroom into the retail sphere in a new-offline retail concept, which they have recently begun - to go alongside their well-known online brand; creating a truly Omni-channel business. In particular, Svante is excited to meet their customers in real life, getting real time feedback on their products - helping Bubbleroom grow as an online company as well.

In this presentation Svante will cover:

- » Where can you make your company more distinctive?
  - » Online: Internet? Mobile?
  - » Offline: TV? Print media?
  - » What will hinder this progress?
- » When can you make these changes?

Register Now!

Main Conference Day 1 - 14 October 2014

- » How is it possible to differentiate yourself from the many other retail brands?
  - » What are the critical success factors that will mitigate this difference?
  - » What is the first step to take?

11.45 Using Omni-channel for consumer life cycle

Kasper Krog,
VP Nordic Sales, Netbooster

12.00 ALL-STAR PANEL What will the retail shop look like in 5 years?

Shehnaaz Chenia,
Global e-Commerce Director, LEGO

Anders Rahr,
e-Commerce Director, Tiger of Sweden

Linda Hellqvist,
Global e-Marketing Director, Oriflame

Shehnaaz's experience spans the full-spectrum of digital where she has spent the last 11 years working for a number of consumer brands namely AOL, Microsoft, BSKYB, and Amazon's Audible from on-line advertising sales right through to product development. Now at The LEGO Group, Shehnaaz is trying to find new ways to excel LEGO's e-Commerce proposition across an array of touch-points. She is also excited to meet peers at the Nordic e-Tail conference to discuss challenges, best practices, and where e-Commerce is heading.

Anders has been heavily involved in Tiger of Sweden's new Omni-channel project, which includes a 'Ship From Store' function. This is a vital feature and starting point to enabling Tiger of Sweden's Omni-channel strategy. This proved difficult through the logistic problems of moving items through the stores. However, they can now match consumers with products more easily and boost sales.

Linda Hellqvist is a marketing major with a Science Masters in Business and Economics. As Global e-Commerce Director at Oriflame she is leading one of the biggest strategic investments in the company's history, to back up the traditional direct selling model with an e-Commerce solution directed towards end consumers as well as the 3.5 million sales force. Prior to her current position she headed up Marketing and Sales at Travelstart with global headquarters in Cape Town, South Africa and before then she was with Google for six years where she was one of the first people in the Stockholm office helping build the Nordic sales organization. Linda headed up the finance team and was responsible for consulting advertisers in finance and insurance reach higher sales levels.

Linda is a sought after speaker of trends in the online media and digital marketing and has held classes at high tier schools such as Berghs! and SSE in Sweden.

This panel will cover in more detail:

- » Will it evolve or die?
  - » In what ways could it evolve?
- » Can it have other uses beyond traditional shopping?
  - » Returning goods
  - » Click and Collect shopping
  - » Try before you buy online
- » What are the practical difficulties with changing the nature of the retail shop?
  - » How can you pioneer this new trend?

PIONEERING YOUR MOBILE OPTIMISATION

13.50 FRENCH PIONEER CASE STUDY In mobile we trust: How to build an implementation strategy based on new consumer behaviour

Pascal Lannoo, Head of Mobile Business and New Customer Experience, Voyages-SNCF (France)

As Director of Mobile Business and New Customer Experience at Voyages-SNCF.com, Pascal Lannoo counts as one of France's Digital pioneers. From 1999, he joined the online sale structures (Uniondream, Clust...), before becoming a consultant in e-Commerce and digital marketing, topics which he has spoken about in France and abroad (Ford, Redcats, AdvanciaNegocia, IRSN, Cengeps, Lapeyre). Since 2011, Pascal drives the mobile activity of one of the largest m-Commerce companies in France.

In this presentation Pascal will cover:

- » The key consumer behaviours behind each strategy
- » How to construct this new strategy
- » Comparative points of analysis between the different consumer touch points
- » How to enhance customer experience

14.10 Using the mobile phone to bridge the gap between 'online' and 'offline' retailing: Putting the store in consumers' pockets

Marius ørvik,
Head of Digital, Jernia

Marius is working hard to make the retail site mobile. In Norway, a lot of retailers don't have mobile sites, therefore they are one of the first and receive new-testable data on what is required from the mobile world. The challenge is measuring how this is valuable, because of the long conversion rates and the disconnect between mobiles, stores and the internet.

In this presentation Marius will cover:

- » How do you engage people in a mobile environment?
- » How do you support consumers using their smartphones while browsing in retail environments?
- » What further opportunities are there for the mobile?
  - » What are the benefits of these opportunities?
  - » Do they have any weaknesses?
- » What strategies have been successful so far in encouraging the use of mobile phones?

14.30 How to use mobile devices to drive sales

Awaiting final confirmation

14.50 CASE STUDY REVOLUTION Mobile payments: Why do customers browse without purchasing on phones and how can conversion be improved?

Christopher Haggström, Director of Digital Marketing and e-Commerce, Yves Rocher

Christopher has been part of the Nordic e-Commerce community for over a decade, delivering e-Commerce solutions to CDON.COM and Tele2 as well as working as a Management Consultant for e-Commercers focusing on turn-around and internationalisation. During his time at Euromaster, a Michelin company, he delivered a new Nordic Digital Strategy "going Omnichannel" which launched a Mobile site in three Nordic countries simultaneously. It applied a new business logic in the "Omnichannel" direction, instead of just "copying" the desktop site logic. This and some new insights from the mobile environment made at Yves Rocher will be the input for discussion in his Case Study Revolution.

In this Case Study Revolution, Christopher will cover:

- » What options do you have?
  - » How do you enhance payment options?
  - » How do you improve security?
  - » How do you upgrade technology?
- » Is it even possible to increase conversion, or is it just a browsing tool?
- » Customer behaviour trends: What will enhance this or speed up the process?

Glen Richardson,
CMO, Fruugo

This panel will cover:

- » When are you ready to 'go global'?
- » Which markets do you enter first?
- » Payments: which system to use?
  - » How do you negotiate the issue of foreign currencies?
- » How do you navigate country regulations and local laws?
- » Shipping and import costs Vs warehouse management – which is right for you?
- » Translating the local language, are there any ways around this?
- » How do you market your product in the new market?
  - » How do you benchmark against native, market rivals?

✓ TRACK C CREATIVE BOARDROOMS

13.50 How do you develop in a multichannel world? Strategies and structure

Mercedes Vidal Lobato, Head of Global Web and Digital, IKEA

Mercedes has recently been enhancing the IKEA multichannel transformation roadmap, which introduces new web and digital capabilities; including e-Commerce. This is a big step for IKEA, who are making the move from a very successful single channel retailer with the store, to multichannel in all dimensions; including people, processes and tools. This is taking 3 years to complete with the first implementation during the summer of 2014 in the UK and IE.

In this Creative Boardroom Mercedes will cover:

- » How can you develop in an Omni-channel world?
- » How can you ensure motivated staff?
- » How do you measure success in your digital strategy
- » How can mobile enhance a companies growth potential?
- » Store development: , how do you cope with the consistency between online and offline in a omni-channel world?
- » How do you tie these all together?

NEW FRONTIERS IN ONLINE MARKETING

16.20 Remodelling the key indicators of an effective online marketing campaign: What does Klaus Salminen, e-Commerce and Online Marketing Director, Electrolux

Klaus has worked with online marketing since March 1994 when he launched his first commercial website. He launched his first e-Commerce website in 1995 and the first online community site in 1996; all firsts in the Swedish market. Since 2010, he is heading the global e-Commerce strategy at Electrolux. He believes the next big trend will be 'Big data' - being able to analyse and act on the vast data that is available about how consumers act, share and buy online in order to predict needs, tailor personalised offers and increase loyalty.

In his presentation Klaus will cover:

- » How can you really tell if a marketing campaign has been effective?
  - » Measuring a precise variable over a period of time to analyse.
- » What are the key indicators?
  - » Variable testing, click rates, movement of 'mice', measuring customer loyalty through repeat business?
- » What is the overall outcome?
- » How do you benchmark against your rivals?
- » What are the critical takeaways for remodelling a campaign?

16.40 Programmatic Display: 5 Trends to Watch, in the Nordic markets and Beyond

Managing Director Nordics, Sociomantic Labs

17.00 How to reach every potential customer: Successful marketing across all channels

 Johan Englund,
Marketing Director and Co-Founder, Lekmer

Johan has recently overseen the opening of Lekmers' first offline store outside Stockholm. A complete new challenge for Lekmer, as it was traditionally an online only store. Johan has found it interesting, facing his customers in real life - listening, learning - and see the differences in offline shopping behavior Vs online. Johan found it most difficult to ensure the integration of processes and systems and ensuring fantastic customer service. But with a step by step approach that put customer experience and customer service first, Lekmer has become the number one shop online in the Nordics with all for small - toys, baby apparel, children's fashion and home decor.

In this presentation Johan will cover:

- » Is there a 'correct' channel to focus upon?
- » Online v offline marketing, which is more effective?
- » How do you accurately capture your brand across different channels?
- » What are the key factors that ensure a successful campaign?
- » Where do you begin Omni-channel marketing: What is the first step to take?

17.20 Improving sales through the creative use of online marketing

Managing Director, Popsugar

17.40 GERMAN PIONEER CASE STUDY How to use customer centric, data driven and agile marketing strategies to market effectively across all channels

Dr. Mirko Caspar,
Managing Director, Mister Spex (Germany)

Mirko has recently introduced a new way to place and buy eyewear with Mister Spex. Eyewear is a fairly new product category to buy online, and in a rather conservative market, therefore he also wanted to come across as unique online player, selling the deepest and strongest branded assortment of eyewear. He has a particular focus on discovering the initial driver for online market adoption - price, assortment or something else? Through testing they have found solutions that work well for Mister Spex, leading it to become a German Pioneer.

In this presentation Mirko will cover:

- » How to be customer centric, data driven and agile
- » How to define and implement good marketing measures
- » Helping the team to define and implement their marketing strategy

✓ TRACK A UNLOCKING SOCIAL MEDIA

08.45 ALL STAR PANEL How to gain an ROI from Social Media in the e-commerce world: Is it even worth it?

Klaus Salminen,
e-Commerce Director, Electrolux

Robert Gunnarsson,
Head of Social Media and Mobile, Ving Sweden

Linda Hellqvist,
Global e-Marketing Director, Oriflame

Klaus has worked with online marketing since March 1994 when he launched his first commercial website. He launched his first e-Commerce website in 1995 and the first online community site in 1996; all firsts in the Swedish market. Since 2010, he is heading the global e-Commerce strategy at Electrolux. He believes the next big trend will be 'Big data' - being able to analyse and act on the vast data that is available about how consumers act, share and buy online in order to predict needs, tailor personalised offers and increase loyalty.

During the past year Robert has been working on getting more Ving employees involved in content creation for Social Media. With the implementation of Google Hangouts and continuing working with our staff driven Instagram relay at www.instagram.com/vingresor. He believes this creates authenticity because this is what fans and followers really want to engage in. Robert uses Social Media primarily for inspiration and notices that this really gets our customers to dream and start planning their next vacation with Ving.

Linda Hellqvist is a marketing major with a Science Masters in Business and Economics. As Global e-Commerce Director at Oriflame she is leading one of the biggest strategic investments in the company's history, to back up the traditional direct selling model with an e-Commerce solution directed towards end consumers as well as the 3.5 million sales force. Prior to her current position she headed up Marketing and Sales at Travelstart with global headquarters in Cape Town, South Africa and before then she was with Google for six years where she was one of the first people in the Stockholm office helping build the Nordic sales organization. Linda headed up the finance team and was responsible for consulting advertisers in finance and insurance reach higher sales levels.

Linda is a sought after speaker of trends in the online media and digital marketing and has held classes at high tier schools such as Berghs! and SSE in Sweden.

This panel will cover in more detail:

- » What are you aiming to achieve through Social Media?
- » How do you measure an ROI?
  - » Are there any specific formulae that can be applied to measure ROI?
- » What does Social Media give you that other avenues do not?
  - » Is it worth the investment?
- » Can you afford to not use Social Media?

09.30 Developing trends in Social Media:

Anders Lund,
Head of Social Media, JYSK

Anders has overall responsibility for JYSK Nordic's social media presence which involves the development of social media strategy, integration of social media initiatives in overall marketing mix, roll out social media in selected JYSK Nordic countries, staff management of social media coordinators and reporting of results to JYSK Nordic BOD. He plans to make social media a more integrated part of the overall marketing mix.

In this presentation Anders will cover:

- » Why do trends move faster in SM?
  - » How can you capitalise on these?
- » What are you looking for to predict future trends?
  - » What are the key indicators and can they be applied to your business?
- » How can spotting these trends benefit your company?
- » How do you begin to implement these new strategies?

09.50 How to truly grow your business with Social Media and future online marketing

10.10 How to use Social Media to rapidly identify new niche target groups and capitalise on their interest

Karin Berg,
Head of Social Media, Lidl Sweden

Karin has recently been working on a successful Social Media project "The Dill Restaurant Project". Lidl created a successful new restaurant but didn't tell consumers that it was their food in the restaurant, before allowing Social Media to enhance the restaurants reputation. The challenge was to let consumers know the quality of the supermarkets food - the Dill Project helped this by reaching new consumers through the spreading word of this project. On Youtube, "The Dill Restaurant Project" was the most viewed video in Sweden in the 1st week of October 2013.

In this presentation Karin will cover:

- » What are the best SM sites for finding these target groups?
- » When found, how do you attract their attention?
- » What are the primary methods of reaching these groups?
- » How can custom be maintained from these groups?

✓ TRACK B RETHINKING LOGISTICS

08.45 ALL STAR PANEL Improving logistics: What are the keys to providing grade 'A' service?

Henrik Oscarsson,
COO, Adlibris

Alexander Arnesen,
Co-Founder, Sprell

Thibault Deslorieux, Head of International Expansion,
Tikamoon (France)

After finishing his MBA in 1994 he started out as a manager for a ceramics distribution hub in Aachen, Germany. In 1997, Henrik moved back to Sweden to join a company within the Sony family. In 2002, he was hired by Activision as General Manager to establish the company's operations in the Nordics. For the past seven years he has been working with e-commerce as CEO of Discshop. The main challenge he faces is the rapidly declining market for physical movies (DVD's and Blu-rays). He has recently been promoted to COO of Adlibris and he hopes to gain interesting insights from other businesses as well as expanding his network of senior e-Commerce professionals.

As a former management consultant and for 5 years, co-founder of Sprell - Norway's leading children's toy e-Commerce business, Alexander has both a theoretical and a hands-on and practical experience of logistics. In particular speed and Service delivery precision through out the value chain, and across all involved partners. Whilst keeping accurate information on stock level, which he feels is the biggest source of errors along with stock-picking accuracy. He specialises in managing customers expectations.

Thibault is the General Manager for the International Markets of Tikamoon. Tikamoon is a French specialist for solidwood pre-assembled furniture. It is a vertically integrated e-Commerce company existing since 2007. He launched the German subsidiary in 2010 and has taken responsibility for developing the business. ✓ TRACK C
1-2-1 DROP IN CLINICS

08.45 1-2-1 Drop in Clinics:

Improving SEO

Randi Eide Nordlien,
e-Commerce Director, Bik Bok

Randi is the e-Commerce Director for Bik Bok, of the Varner Gruppen - one of Norway's largest fashion retailers. She is passionate and responsible for it's web strategy, e-Commerce and best practice. She is particularly involved in SEO and SEM strategy.

Managing your Web analytics

Anders Stensønes,
Head of Analytics, Apotek1

Anders is the Analytic expert for Apotek 1 Gruppen AS, he works with maintaining and managing the corporate Intranet and website. In particular he is responsible for SEO/SEM - promoting Apotek 1's website and managing development projects with data and information.

Enhancing Omni-channel

Kåre Berentz-Nicolaisen,
Head of Digital Marketing, Bilka

Kåre's most exciting project was an online Christmas game; it was truly exciting because it skillfully combined many different Omni-channel environments including the supermarket checkout, the email program and e-Commerce. This was nominated for 3 different categories at the 2014 European Loyalty Awards. The difficulties involved were mapping a meaningful consumer journey and then paving the way with technology. By addressing the consumer journey, touch-point by touch-point, he was able to create an effective system and a truly Omni-channel experience - it engaged more than 165,000 unique users in a 5 week period.

Online Marketing: Your way to success

Mikael Torstensson,
Online Marketing Director, NetOnNet

Mikael has recently been running in-depth analysis of all marketing activities through econometrics giving new insights. He found that some results were different from earlier tracking and where a surprise to Net On Net. It also showed how effective online marketing campaigns are offline. Some online channels actually worked better offline than online. This helped identify several new KPI's that could show if an online campaign was successful or not. Meaning Net On Net could decrease their marketing budget and still increase sales both online and offline.

Improving Mobile sites

Marius ørvik,
Head of Digital, Jernia

Marius is working hard to make the retail site mobile. In Norway, a lot of retailers don't have mobile sites, therefore they are one of the first and receive new-testable data on what is required from the mobile world. The challenge is measuring how this is valuable, because of the long conversion rates and the disconnect between mobiles, stores and the internet.

How to personalise your website

Johan Savenstrand,
CTO & e-Commerce Director, Ginza

Johan has been working closely on optimizing the recommendation and search engine on the Ginza site, using cutting edge software to create a great customer shopping experience. He achieves this by showing relevant content to every customer and offering a high degree of personalisation to the website. As a result, Ginza has seen an increase in sales from recommendations and landing pages.

10.30 Coffee and networking break

11.15 Drill Down Roundtables

Pouria Loghmani,
Nordic e-Commerce Director, Dustin

Johan Savenstrand,
CTO & e-Commerce Manager, Ginza

Jorge Reyes,
Head of Online Marketing, Myphotobok.de

Pouria is currently building an e-Commerce platform from scratch for the largest e-Tailer in the Nordics. A platform based heavily on recommendation technology and user behaviour. The system is to be launched in September but has received positive feedback from the internal tests. He is ultimately hoping for a better customer experience by meeting the customers' needs through providing a streamlined and adaptive e-Commerce solution. Pouria is excellent at understanding the personalisation of Websites and is implementing this for Dustin. He is also on the Advisory Board for eTail Nordic 2014.

Kingspoint creates success stories by increasing your online sales. Most companies get caught up in bureaucracy and internal politics. They spend all their time in meetings and struggle to see their business grow. We get things done! We implement like hell and make sure you start seeing a return fast. Values are important to us. We prefer working with people whose values are closely aligned with ours. Read more about some of the success stories here: www.kingspoint.no
